GIRL KILLS HER RIVAL.

Chiffonnette's ambition to fill a large private graveyard led to her arrest last evening in Paris for murder, the second within about a year.

Chiffonnette is the attractive name of a not unattractive young woman popular in circles where morality is as rare as industrious habits. Even the fact that she has only one eye, the other having been lost in an encounter with a hot-tempered victim to her charms, appears to have added a weird fascination to the coquettish glances of her other optic. Anyhow, she is much sought after in her set and never without a champion to protect her interest and proclaim her superiority over the dulciness of all others Apaches in Parisian criminal localities.

About a year ago Chiffonnette, having occasion to complain of a little infidelity upon the part of her protector for the time being, mutilated him scientifically during slumber. When he came out of the hospital he sent a revolver bullet into her eye with an aim true enough to destroy the sight, but not to kill her, for she promptly laid him dead with a stab in the heart.

This exploit cost Chiffonnette six months' imprisonment. Upon re-entry into public life she linked her fortunes to those of a dashing young Apache, who recently got into difficulties with the police and left Chiffonnette an inconsolable grass widow, also full of resentment against a frail rival by the name of Lulu, whom she suspected had a share not only in her imprisoned champion's affections, but also in the denunciation which led to his arrest.

Meeting Lulu shortly before daybreak Wednesday in the ancient Faubourg du Temple, Chiffonnette determined to settle her grievance.

"It is you who got my man shut up," she shrieked.

"Yes," replied Lulu, "and if you don't look out I'll shut up your other eye."

This was a blow beneath the belt which Chiffonnette answered with another thrust with a dagger. It ended the fight and Lulu's career forever.

Chiffonnette is again in prison for the eleventh time. She bears the scars of some 50 wounds caused by the knife or bullets of her former friends. As for her enemies, they are mostly underground.

SON FEARS HIS FATHER.

Fearful that his father, Rev. George S. Fitzhugh, may shoot him on account of thwarting his plans to marry 10-year-old Lulu Frazier, Mr. George Fitzhugh, the eldest son, stated yesterday that he thought it would be best for his father to remain in the asylum at Spring Grove for sometime.

The father was visited by his younger son, Lee Fitzhugh, and upon his return to Curtis Bay the son reported that the father still declared his determination to make the child his wife. Mr. George Fitzhugh made a trip to Ocean City yesterday to talk with Bishop Paret upon the subject of his father's illness and future disposition. It is stated that if Rev. Fitzhugh recovers from his illness he will more than likely be given work elsewhere. The family left Curtis Bay yesterday, and the rectory will be in charge of the housekeeper.

BURGLAR SHOT BY A BANKER.

A. J. Fletcher, president of the Farmers' Bank and proprietor of a large department store at Clarksburg, W. Va., shot and fatally wounded Harry Johnson, who was attempting to break into his store at an early hour yesterday morning.

Mr. Fletcher lives in apartments over his store, and was awakened about 1 o'clock by someone attempting to force a door in the rear of his store.

Mr. Fletcher grabbed his revolver and fired four shots in the direction of the noise, and, policemen hearing the shots, rushed to the scene and found a man under some bushes. He was taken to jail, and it was not discovered that he was shot until 4 o'clock, when he made it known.

He was taken to a hospital, but the doctors failed to locate the bullet, and say the man cannot live. He refuses to talk, and very little is known about him.

PENSIONS FOR CONFEDERATES.

Ten thousand checks are to be mailed from the office of the auditor of the state at Richmond on the evening of August 31. The checks are in payment of pensions to Confederate veterans, and amount to $350,000.

In some sections of the state men have been unscrupulous enough to charge the beneficiaries as much as 5 per cent. for cashing the checks. The total amount of pensions paid by the state, including the appropriation for the Soldiers' Home, is close on to $500,000.

The pensioners are being reduced in numbers every year. There are few of them who are not more than 70 years of age. As fast as there is a vacancy, however, there are other names to be added. There is little trouble for deserving Confederates to get their pittance from the state.

Russell Sage's estate is valued at $64,153,800. This fact became known yesterday for the first time through the signing of the order for transfer tax payable to the state.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 28, 1908.

THE latest news from Morocco, while it may be reversed tomorrow, really seems to indicate the downfall of the legitimate sultan and the triumph of the usurper; in which case, assuming that achievement to remain achieved, we shall have to regard the usurper as having become, by virtue of successful usurpation, the actual and legitimate occupant of the Shereefian throne. It will now be interesting, says the New York Tribune, to see what the powers will do about it if Hafig fulfills his pledge, promise, threat or whatever it was, to repudiate every foreign compact and obligation which his predecessor made and to expel every foreigner from Moroccan soil. If he does it, there may be a sequel to Algeciras. But then he may have been merely talking for buncombe.

THE compliments of many people will be extended to Vice-Chancellor Howell, of New Jersey, for declaring that the blowing of factory whistles is a nuisance which may be stopped on complaint of those whom it annoys! The notion that men must be summoned from their homes to factories and dismissed from their workplaces to their homes with blasts of whistles or sirens which may be heard for miles is savagery. This is an age of clocks and other devices which make those ear spliting signals as out of date as town criers and watchmen's rattles.

THE superintendent of the Arkansas division of the Rock Island Railroad has issued a bulletin notifying all employes that cigarette smoking would not be permitted and that the violators would be discharged. The superintendent probably holds that the cigarette fiends are no the proper persons in whose hands to trust the lives of passengers.

CHAIRMAN HITCHCOCK, of the national republican committee, was told yesterday of the plans of some southern republicans to carry some of the close districts in Virginia and other southern states. Mr. Hitchcock had better keep his hand on his pocket book.

A WOMAN, 85 years old, was arrested at Dayton, O., yesterday, on a charge of speeding her automobile. When the aged woman was brought into police headquarters, the chief and attaches were surprised at the knowledge she had of the mechanism of an automobile. An old fool is the biggest fool.

THE New York World, after exhausting every effort to prevent the nomination of Bryan at Denver, has come out in support of his candidacy as the only chance of opposing Rooseveltism. This is certainly the surest way.

THE cold weather has had a most depressing effect upon the watermelon market—in fact it has gone to pieces.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 28.

The police are looking for a negro who attacked Miss Pansy Dement in the home of Jacob Crane, 139 N street southeast last night. Freeing herself from the negro the plucky young woman seized a revolver and shot at him.

Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will leave this city today for an extended trip through the west and southwest. He will make many speeches for the democratic ticket during the next two months.

Because the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern and the Texas and Pacific Railroads charged $180 for freight on a carload of tent pegs, when the pegs themselves were only worth $194 36 the Beekman Lumber Company, of Kansas city has appealed to the Interstate Commerce Commission and demanded $120 reparation. The pegs were shipped from Kansas City to Dallas, and it is alleged that the railroads charged 40 cents more per hundred pounds than the legal tariff.

The exchange of ratifications of the arbitration treaty between Japan and the United States is being made by mail. This unusual course has been adopted for the purpose of preventing the inconveniences of bringing Baron Takahira, the Japanese ambassador who is absent for the summer, back to Washington merely to sign the papers.

BODY NOT IDENTIFIED.

The body of a fashionably dressed girl was found in Lake Michigan, at Chicago yesterday. Whether she had been slain, committed suicide or drowned accidentally is not known. The girl was about 25 years old. She was dressed in an elaborate brown dress and brown stockings and shoes. Her hat contained the mark of "Block & Turner, Richmond, Va." The only clue to her identity is a small gold pin found at the back of the neck, on which were engraved the initials "M. F. M." There was a scar on the right side of the body, indicating that the girl had once been operated upon for appendicitis.

The identity of the young woman found drowned in the lake at Chicago yesterday cannot be established in Richmond. Block & Turner, milliners, from whom the hat worn by the young woman had been purchased, can throw no light on the mystery. The police and detectives have no record of any missing Richmond girl answering the description of the drowned woman. Block & Turner sell many hats not only in Richmond, but all over Virginia.

Virginia News.

R. L. Cleveland, a Culpeper merchant of prominence, died this morning, aged 67 years.

Senator Daniel, one of the members of the subcommittee of the National Monetary Commission, which has been studying the financial systems of Great Britain and France, sailed for home yesterday.

John M. Halladay, a civil engineer and mining expert, of Spottsylvania county, has recently discovered near Knights Branch, in that county, a sulphur mine which shows extensive richness of sulphur and pyrites.

Edgar Allen, jr., son of the late Gen. Edgar Allen, at one time Assistant United States attorney general, was elected commander-in-chief of the National Society of the Sons of Veterans at Niagara Falls, yesterday. Mr. Allen is assistant postmaster at Richmond.

Great excitement prevails at Pulaski, where a crowd is hunting a negro, who yesterday attempted an assault on Miss Margie Bosang, the 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. M. J. Bosang. The girl was alone in her home, when her assailant entered. She screamed, and the negro ran.

Bud Miller, a Roanoke negro, was arrested at Roanoke, yesterday by Policeman Ayres, charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. Malcomb Meeks in her home, at Ellston, last May. Miller denies that he is the man wanted. Mrs. Meeks was terribly beaten by her assailant.

John M. Parsons, of Grayson county, was nominated by the Fifth district republican convention, held at Martinsville, yesterday, for Congress. Only two names (Parsons and Dr. J. W. Simmons, of Martinsville) were presented, Parsons winning by a vote of 74 to 52. Dr. Simmons was the nominee in the last election, being defeated by Congressman Saunders by a small majority.

Frank Young, colored, sentenced to die in Mecklenburg county on June 5 for murder, and who was respited by the governor until September 4, will not be required to go on the scaffold on that date. Gov. Swanson directed yesterday that the man be given another respite until October 9. Young is said to be insane, and is now in the asylum at Petersburg.

Mrs. R. A. Parsons, wife of a produce dealer of Cape Charles was fatally burned at her home in that city, as a result of an explosion of a gasoline stove, due to a defective feed pipe from the tank. Having discovered the defect she endeavored to throw the stove into the yard, when she met with the accident. She was burned about the body and became unconscious in which condition she remained until her death.

Expert burglars worked Main and Broad streets, Richmond, Wednesday night, carrying away loot which cannot be estimated until an inventory of the places visited has been made. The thieves entered the Broad street places by means of the skylight. Jewelry and cash are missing from Bachrach's pawn shop and from Tragle's drug store. The storehouse of L. S. Ledman was entered on Main street, umbrellas and shoes being taken. The police are confident that the work was done by professionals.

Policemen A. Clift Hodges and A. C. Hodges, of Norfolk county, brothers, yesterday were given a preliminary hearing on warrants charging them with the murder of Wesley Adams, a colored boy, 17 years old. The boy, charged with housebreaking and under arrest, was shot down by A. Cliff Hodges Wednesday afternoon as he made a break for liberty. A. C. Hodges was with his brother when the fatal shot was fired. The warrants against the policemen were sworn out by a brother of Adams, and they were admitted to bail in the sum of $250 each. A coroner's jury had exhonerated A. Cliff Hodges for taking the life of the boy.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING.

As stated in yesterday's Gazette, Mr. Charles B. Roberts, jr., president of the National Supply Company, of Baltimore, was shot and seriously wounded on the boardwalk at Atlantic City late Wednesday night. He was in a rolling chair with a woman, said to be Mrs. William S. G. Williams, of east Madison avenue, Baltimore. Mr. Roberts, it is said, believes his masked assailant was a robber, but the police suggest that jealousy may have been the motive.

Roberts and Mrs. W. S. G. Williams are widely known. Mrs. Williams has long been one of the belles of Baltimore. She was a Miss Belle De Ford, the eldest daughter of Thomas De Ford, a family that was in the wholesale hide and leather business for years and amassed a fortune.

When seen at his country estate at Long Green, Md., yesterday, Mr. W. S. G. Williams, whose wife was with Mr. Roberts when he was shot, stated that he was surprised to hear that his wife was at the seashore, as he thought she was in Boston.

According to the police, Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Williams have been together frequently since her arrival at Atlantic City. They dined together Wednesday evening, and soon afterward went out on the boardwalk in a closed rolling chair. A heavy northeaster had driven many of the promenaders from the boardwalk, which was nearly deserted when they entered the chair. Just as the pair reached Rhode Island avenue a man sprang out of the shadows and shot Roberts.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 28.—The trading has been active all through the first hour and was attended with irregular movements in prices. At the outset the buying by shorts was resumed and this was largely responsible for advances made during the first hour. At the high level considerable realizing was induced which resulted in reactions in several stocks. Later the upward movement was resumed.

Cloudburst.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 28.—Eleven are known to be dead and many others are reported to have perished or are injured as the result of a cloudburst which inundated Folsom, N. M., early today. Many houses were swept away and mesgre reports say every house was damaged. Many persons living in the Canyons above the city through which the floods swept are believed to be lost. Searching parties are at work now.

Governor Hughes, of New York, will impanel a special grand jury to return an indictment against the Hains brothers, accused of the murder of William Annis.

A man named Falconieri in Rome yesterday accused Pope IX of obtaining property fraudulently and declared that the pope does not possess virtues necessary for beatification.

John Reynolds, of Montclair, N. J., United States consul at Florence, Italy, from 1888 until 1897, died in a hospital in New York yesterday following an operation for cancer.

Richard Maguire, of Brooklyn, who died of heart disease yesterday, was born in Virginia in 1833 and had lived in Brooklyn 60 years. He was a retired lumber merchant.

Judge Benjamin D. McGinnis, oldest lawyer, sole honorary member of the Bar Association, and first judge of the Criminal Court of Cabell country, W. V., died yesterday at the age of 85 years.

George Short, who lives near Greensboro, Md., committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn on the Pinder farm yesterday. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and family.

When rescuers yesterday completed their work at the Hailey Ola coal mine No. 1 at Haileyville, 14 miles east of McAlester, Okla., where the disastrous explosion occurred Wednesday, 29 dead bodies had been removed.

As the result of being run over by a wagon yesterday afternoon, Nathan Sachs, the 5-year-old son of Mr. Louis Sachs, of Baltimore, is in a serious condition at his home, suffering from two broken ribs and severe bruises about the body.

Mrs. I. W. Hellman, wife of a banker and capitalist, died at San Francisco, yesterday after a long illness. Mrs. Hellman was prominent in charitable work, being at the head of half a dozen Hebrew hospital and relief societies.

Conductor John Maxwell, of Fulton, Ky., was shot three times in the abdomen by an unknown negro he had ordered off his train, a few miles south of Fulton yesterday, and Conductor Maxwell fired six shots at the negro. The negro is dying, and there is no hope for the recovery of Maxwell.

Enoch Hamonds, storekeeper and gauger, internal revenue service, Eighth district of Kentucky, was yesterday dismissed by the acting secretary of the treasury upon recommendation of the civil service commission, for alleged pernicious political activity in a state sensatorial contest last fall.

E. H. Beckler, one of the best known civil and construction engineer in the United States, dropped dead yesterday at the West Tunnel Camp of the St. Paul Pass, near Taft, Mont., aged 52 years. Under the direction of Mr Beckler, the Pacific extension of the Great Northern Railroad was constructed.

J. Harris, 28 years old, an iron worker of Atlanta, Ga., was shot and killed last night by J. R. Earnest in the latter's home where Harris had been living. It is alleged that Harris, who is a brother of Earnest's wife, had been abusing the latter and Earnest being notified he ran to his house. Earnest says that he shot Harris in defense of his wife.

Eldridge Davis, a farmer, of West Bainbridge, N. Y., sent after his cows Monday afternoon and did not return at midnight. There were four bullet holes in the back of his head when his body was found in the pasture yesterday. He is believed to have been killed by tramps. Sheriff Beardsley and a posse are scouring the country for the murderers.

Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, of Cleveland, O., husband of Cassie Chadwick, who died in the penitentiary, where she was sentenced for colossal frauds, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. His personal debts he places at $1,750, while debts contracted through indorsing notes and checks for his wife he places at about $650,000.

The honesty of a Pullman car porter saved William J. Bryan several hundred dollars yesterday and won the negro a "thank you" and $10 from Mr. Bryan. Bryan dressed hurriedly on his arrival at Kansas City to meet a reception committee and forgot the pocket book which contained $300 given him at Salem for the democratic campain fund, as well as his own cash.

Rev. Dr. Donald Sage Mackay, pastor of the Collegiate Reformed Church, at Fifth avenue and Forty-eighth street, New York, died yesterday at Portland, Me. Dr. Mackay was in his seat in a Pullman car on his way to join his children at Blue Hills when he succumbed to double pneumonia. With him were Mrs. Mackay and Rev. Andrew Hageman, assistant pastor of the church.

An object lesson in the evolution of railroad bridge replacement was given on Tuesday on the Philadelphia division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, when the old bridge across Chester creek was pulled out and a new double-track steel bridge 150 feet long was slid into position in just three and a half minutes without a hitch, breaking the time record on this system and believed to be the quickest work of the kind ever done anywhere. There was no interruption to traffic. The new bridge weighs about 300 tons.

Sheriff J. E. Bryant, of Monroe county, Ky., and one of his deputies yesterday produced the body of Jesse Coe, a negro, who has been wanted in Indianapolis since September 30, 1906. On the night of that date Patrolmen Sullivan and Pelicard were killed in an alley by two negroes whom the officers had seen breaking into a house. George Williams, one of the negroes, was captured and hanged. Jesse Coe, the other, had since been a fugitive in his native hills, near Martinsburg, Ky. Sheriff Bryant was paid $1,500 yesterday by Mayor Bookwalter upon the identification of the body of Coe which the sheriff and deputy brought to Indianapolis there. Coe's whereabouts was betrayed to Sheriff Bryant by Claude Andrews, a cousin of Coe, who will get $600 of the reward. The sheriff and three deputies lay in ambush Wednesday afternoon at a place in the mountains agreed upon with Andrews, who had enticed Coe to the spot on the pretense of hunting squirrels. Here the officers came upon him. Coe was armed with a rifle. He refused to surrender and attempted to shoot, but the officers were first and shot him to death.

Prices of fresh meat have taken a tumble at Omaha and packing house managers report that a still further reduction will be made in beef, pork and mutton next week.

It is understood that a decree will be granted shortly in Circuit Court No. 2 in Baltimore divorcing Mr. William H. Fisher absolutely from Mrs. Edith Ridgely Fisher, who, it is alleged, left the city a few months ago with Mr. William B. Rayner, son of Senator Rayner. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher are both well-known socially. They were married November 18, 1884, and lived together until March 14 last. They have three children.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Mr. Taft and his family will leave Hot Springs at 8:30 o'clock today and will go to Middle Bass Island, near Put-In-Bay, for a week's stay.

The suspension of the firm of H. W. Davis was announced on the New York Consolidated Stock Exchange this morning. The failure is said to be an unimportant one.

The Cunard line steamer Mauretania which arrived at Quarantine, N. Y., today from Liverpool and Queenstown made the passage in 5 days and 59 minutes, at an average speed of 23 knots an hour.

A message from Fez says that Mulai-Hafid, the newly proclaimed sultan of Morocco has been captured by Ouled Djems, a tribal chieftain, and is being held for a ransom, but later the report was disproved,

Determined to out do every other country in its welcome to the American fleet when it steams into the harbor on October 17, the Japanese government has decided to send the entire navy to act as an escort for the sixteen American ships.

Alarmed at the prominence given by newspapers, both at home and abroad, to stories of Russian discontent, plots and executions, the czar today ordered the St. Petersburg Telegraph Agency, practically the only channel through which such news can reach the public, to stop giving out such stories.

Artist Ferdinand Pinney Earle and Mrs. Earle, with their three weeks old child are again united at the artist's home "Affinity Hill, at Monroe, N. Y. It is rumored today that Mrs. Earle's mother is soon to join her daughter and the neighborhood is wondering what effect a "soul mate" mother-in-law will have.

The schooner Zicheus Sherman arrived today at Quarantine, N. Y., from Norfolk with a cargo of coal for New Haven. When off Sea Girt, N. J., August 26, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon she was in collision with the steamer Larimer, bound from New York to Port Arthur. The steamer stood by the steamer to afford assistance. The steamer had her bowsprit carried away and anchored until the steamer I. J. Merritt made fast to her and towed her to port.

KILLS A GRAMPUS IN WEIR.

When the Blatchford weir crew went off to their harbor trap near Boston yesterday they found an 18-foot grampus in the netting.

Having but limited room, the creature could not exert its strength to the best advantage, but it made things lively for its assailants for the ensuing half hour. The fishermen's weapons were an axe and a big hook, and with these they engaged in combat.

The hook was thrust into the head of the grampus. At once the cetacean put up a vigorous protest. If it could have turned its head downward it would have quickly torn loose from the fishermen and probably have forced its way out through the weir, but the rope fastened at one end to the hook and at the other to the boat prevented this.

The fear and fury of the creature were confined to terrible thrashings of its flukes and plungings of its body. Once the grampus reared aloft, threatening to tumble bodily into the boat, but it fell to one side, simply deluging the craft and its occupants. Holding hard to the hook rope, Blatchford, Baker, Raymond and Freeman used the axe with vigor, directing their efforts to the crushing of the thick skull. Again and again the axe, swung with all strength of the wielder, descended, and at last the great sea animal turned upon its side, dead. David C. Stult bought the grampus and had it towed to his shore front.

The Hainess Held.

New York, Aug. 28.—Captain Peter C. Hains, who shot and killed William E. Annis at the Bayside Yacht Club, August 15, and his brother T. Jenkins Hains, the author, were bound over to the grand jury today without bail, by Magistrate Gilroy, in the Long Island City police court.

The most startling evidence brought out was the testimony of Charles H. Roberts, who said that immediately following the shooting T. Jenkins Hains said to him that he was sorry his brother had shot Annis; that he tried to dissuade the captain from such a rash course and only consented to accompany him when he found that he could not be deterred.

Roberts said he asked T. Jenkins Hains why he himself had drawn a revolver and threatened to shoot anyone who interferred and his reply was that he thought this the best way to prevent further bloodshed.

John F. McIntyre who represented the Hains brothers made a motion that the charge against T. J. Hains be dismissed. Magistrate Gilroy promptly overruled the motion.

There were but three witnesses examined, Charles H. Roberts, Charles Baker, the officer who made the arrest and Dr. Fye, the coroner's physician, who held the autopsy.

At no time during the hearing was there the slightest reference made to the cause that led up to the shooting or of the alleged intimacy between Mrs. Peter C. Hains and William E. Annis.

Fire at Manassas.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Manassas, Va., Aug. 28.—Fire at 1:30 this morning at Manassas destroyed the Enterprise bakery and an adjoining building occupied by Messrs Thomas H. Lion, Edward Conner and Nash & Co. The loss is $10,000, about half insured.

The Atlantic City Shooting.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 28.—By the time he finishes sweating Jessie Jackson, a negro chairman, today, Chief of Police Woodruff believes he will be well on the way to a solution to the mystery veiling the shooting here Wednesday night of Charles B. Roberts, the Baltimore clubman and millionaire who was fatally injured while riding in a chair with Mrs. I. G. Williams, of Baltimore—the wife of his best friend. With a bullet in his liver and his chances of recovery hourly fading, Roberts sticks to his story that he was shot by a masked highway man. Mrs. Williams, in the seclusion of her room at the Hotel Brighton—where Roberts was also stopping—declines to talk. Not the slightest clue is in evidence as to the whereabouts of the man who fired the shot.

Basing their belief on the fact that Williams believed his wife was in New Hampshire with her children at the hour at which she was figuring in a tragedy, the police believe Roberts could tell more if he wishes.

Although the negro, Jackson, corroborated the story of Roberts at first in the matter of the latter's assailant being masked, he has weakened on this point and the police hope to get an admission from him before the day is over that will show that the man who fired the shots at Roberts was not only unmasked, but that he was a well dressed business like appearing man, giving no evidence of being a thug. It is known that the Atlantic City police are today searching for a Maryland automobile, for which a New Jersey license was said to have been issued the day before the shooting. They expect a trail thereon to lead them to Baltimore. Witnesses have been found who say an automobile stopped a short distance from the boardwalk where the shooting occurred. The evident determination of Roberts to throw a veil of mystery about the affair has increased the suspicion of the police that there is nothing in the theory first advanced by the victim that he was shot by a would-be highwayman.

For the first time since the shooting of Mr. Roberts a statement was today made of the details of the occurrence, as recited by Mrs. Williams. This story of the occurrence was given to Mr. Wilcox by Mrs. Williams last evening and by him repeated to a reporter this morning. The story is as follows:

"The man halted the chair and came face to face with us and was walking slowly. The man peered through the glass windows, behind which we sat, and laid his hand on the chair and shoved one of the windows aside, at the same time showing a revolver. Thinking the man wanted money I offered him my chatelaine bag. The stranger waved it aside.

"I don't want your purse; I want the man's money," replied the man.

"At this point," continued Mr. Wilcox, "Mr. Roberts sprang from the chair and grappled with the robber, who shot him and made his escape in the darkness. In the meantime the negro chair pusher had run away and left the couple at the mercy of the highwayman and Mrs. Williams was thus left alone with the wounded man. Assistance soon came, however, and she accompanied Mr. Roberts to the hospital, whence she returned at once to her hotel and notified Mr. J. Olney Norris, who immediately wired to me to come down to Atlantic City.

In a statement sent to the Atlantic City police this afternoon H. Caveddish Darrell, law partner of Williams, stated on behalf of the latter that Mr. Williams knew all the time that his wife was in Atlantic City. He declares that the husband is fully cognizant of the insinuations that have been cast and that he would come here to personally refute them.

"It is possible that Mr. Williams did state last night that he believed his wife was in Boston" explains Darrell, "but he was nervous and excited when he spoke, and the error was due to his confession.

Unable longer to carry out their alleged project for covering up the crime the police this afternoon started a probe which will make necessary the answering of some questions by Mrs. Williams' male relatives. The woman still denies herself to newspaper men, but the police have succeeded in interrogating her and it is said have procured from her a positive statement that the man who shot Roberts was not and could not have been her husband. Mrs. Williams is said to have denied emphatically the reported declaration of her friend's assailant "you will never take her out to dinner again" as he fired the shot.

Roberts' condition this afternoon is reported very grave and the officers are making preparations to get an antemortem statement from him at the first indication of a sinking spell.

The story that Mr. Williams had been in Atlantic City on Wednesday has been disapproved it being positively established that Mr. Williams has been at the country home near Baltimore since his recent arrival from Europe. While the highwayman version of the shooting is accepted, there are many hints of developments that may be looked for within a short time, that will make the bones in more than one closet do a merry jingle. Mrs. Williams was Miss Belle Deford, the eldest daughter of Thomas Deford. Her brothers, Frank B. Thomas and John Deford, are all prominent in business and social life.

Mrs. Roberts arrived here today from New England where she has been spending the summer with her children. She declared that she could furnish no clue to the man who attacked her husband. She was greatly wrought up over the occurrence, and went at once to the hospital to be with her husband.

In a statement today Captain Richard Whalen, head of the detective department here declared that it appeared to him that an effort was being made to shield the culprit.

The chief of police of Baltimore today received a letter from the chief of Atlantic City. He refuses to say what it contained.

William S. G. Williams returned Tuesday from Europe, where he had been on account of his health. His wife and three children had been at his summer home at Long Green, Md., during his absence. Williams went directly to Baltimore.

The Navies.

London, Aug. 28.—The astounding sum of $1,431,070,989 has been expended in the last three years on the navies of seven of the leading countries of the world, according to an estimate by the British admiralty made public today. The seven countries are: America, England, France, Russia, Germany, Italy and Japan. England leads with an expenditure of $476,055,435 and America is second with $331,310,740. Aside from their hugeness the chief interest in the figures presented by the admiralty is that they show England is not keeping up with her policy of maintaining a navy equal to that of any other two powers. Putting America's naval expenditures in the last three years with those of either France, Russia, Germany or Japan the total is larger than that of England. The British, however, do not count America an opposing power and on this basis her "two power" naval strength is being maintained. The admiralty places the strength of the five leading nations in serviceable battleships, cruisers and destroyers, in the following order: England 57;34;142; America 25;13;20; France 21; 19; 48; Germany 22;8;61 Japan 11;11;54.

Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 28.—Mayor Stoy and his kitchen cabinet who have been charged with the responsibility for the Sunday wide-openness of Atlantic City have apparently been smoked out by Governor Fort and his strenuous methods of law enforcement. After what was virtually an all night session of the mayor and his retainers, including Chief of Police Woodruff and Sheriff Johnson, the decision was arrived at today that the excise law will be obeyed next Sunday. The force which brought about the decision was the stand of Governor Fort, who threatened to suspend Stoy from office, and place a man in the the mayor's chair who would enforce the laws, and the appointment of a special grand jury by the supreme court to inquire into the cases two grand juries have refused to act in. A business men's and citizens' meeting is to be held in Morris Guards Hall next Monday night.

The Southern Floods.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 28.—Receding floods thoughout Georgia and the Carolinas today reveal more fully the damage that has been done. The loss of life has not yet been fully determined, but it is thought that it was not so great as at first believed. The rains have ceased in the upper Savannah valley, and the river at Augusta has begun to fall. The death list there includes about fifteen persons, most of whom were negro laborers. The property loss in Augusta is estimated at $1,000,000, principally to stocks of goods in stores. A city bridge and a railroad bridge over the Savannah river were washed away. The greatest loss was in the rural district. Partial reports from the flooding sections show that the crops were damaged in all parts of the state, and in the river valleys were totally destroyed. No estimate of the loss has been made.

The Persian Troubles.

Teheran, Aug. 28.—The seed of revolution sown in Tabriz is bearing bloody fruit all over Persia and today Shah Ali Mirza faces the alternative of convoking a parliament, in accordance with his promise, or yielding his crown.

Inability to crush out the rebellion of constitutionalists in Tabriz, which has raged intermittently for months, has encouraged uprisings all over the country and practically the whole of Persian Kurdistan is aflame with revolt with the Shah powerless to stop the onward sweep.

The reported capture of Kerman, a city of 50,000, by the revolutionists, was confirmed in messages received today, which tell of the crushing defeat of the Shah's force in a battle in which a thousand were killed and wounded. The leader of the constitutionalists has set up a government and will ignore the Shah's authority until parliament is reconvened.

The Trick a Failure.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—Because she wanted to play a trick on her pastor, Rev. John Bloom, Miss Eva Browberfski attired herself in men's clothes, secretly entered the minister's home and crawled under his bed. Hearing a noise about 11 o'clock last night as he was preparing his Sunday sermon, Dr. Bloom concluded their was a burglar in his home and he so informed Lieutenant McAfee. The police investigated and saw a pair of high heeled shoes peeking from beneath the bed. He grabbed the feet and out came the intruder who promptly fainted. She was revived and explained that she was only playing a joke on the minister. Dr. Bloom took the joke gallantly and sent the young woman home.

FLOODS SUBSIDING.

Dispatches from the flooded districts in the south state that the waters are subsiding but that great damages has been done.

Only once, in 1888, did Augusta, Ga., experience a flood as disastrous as that of Wednesday. It is estimated that from 10 to 15 lives, mostly colored laborer, have been lost in and near that city. The urban property loss is estimates at $800,000 to $1,000,000.

Destruction perhaps equally as great was caused among crops and to factories and railroads outside the city.

Train service and communication by telephone and telegraph were entirely interrupted for a time.

Great damage was also done in central South Caroline and other southern states.

The heavy rains which have been falling in eastern Virginia almost incessantly since last Sunday continue, and last night were accompanied by a northeast gale, blowing at a velocity of thirty-six to forty miles an hour. Seven inches of water has fallen since the downpour commenced. Acres of farming lands are inundated in the Norfolk section. In Danville, Petersburg and Richmond the waters are falling and the worst is over.

All damages to tracks of the Southern Railway between Richmond and points south, caused by the recent hard and long rainy spell, have been repaired and trains are now being operated through from the north to the south and there is no further delay anywhere on the lines of the system between Washington, Richmond and Atlanta.

POLITICAL INTOXICATION.

[From the Richmond Journal]

Judge William Hodges Mann was rushed in at the meeting of the Farmer's Convention to discuss the subject of agricultural education, regularly assigned on the programme to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, who was not present. The subject was interesting; the audience expectant; but the occasion for a political harangue was most tempting, and the opportunity could not be lost. Possibly at some future time our friends will be enlightened on the subject.

As the Farmer's Institute is in no sense a political organization, the propriety of the performance might seem questionable; but we refrain from comment on the matter of good taste and manners.

Judge Mann was eloquent in telling the farmers how he had championed their every interest in the Senate, and of the bill providing for agricultural education in the rural districts. The newspaper reports of his speech quote him as saying: "For lack of a legislative committee from the farmers to back up the fight we were making, the plan to create five great agricultural high schools in the different sections of the State was stricken out."

Dr. Charles U. Gravatt, who represented the Caroline district in the Senate of Virginia, followed the eloquent judge. Now it seems that Dr. Gravatt introduced a bill known as Senate bill No. 167, to provide for the development of agriculture by the establishment of branch experiment stations and agricultural high schools in connection therewith. The friends of this measure availed themselves of the only possible chance of securing its passage, and we find the record on pages 754-756, of the Senate Journal, under date March 5, 1908, where it is shown that this bill was defeated by the vote of Judge William Hodges Mann.

The judge is now a candidate for office. He has been a candidate many times before; and the good people of Virginia have said no. Here is the record of his office-seeking:

A candidate for Circuit Court judge.
A candidate for Congress.
A candidate for attorney general.
A candidate for judge of Court of Appeals.
A candidate for governor.
And again a candidate for governor.

The only offices he has secured were county judge of Nottoway before and during the readjuster regime and State Senator from the Nottoway district.

The Good Book exhorts us to be temperate in all things, and temperance means much more than total abstinence from intoxicants. We should be temperate in our statements, and especially so when official records are available. "I was your champion," says the judge to the farmers; but the inexorable record rises, like Banquo's ghost, to testify against him.

The lust for office has made our friend Intoxicated. He is saturated, drenched, and is irrepressible.

WINS FIRST PRIZE.

When the news reached this city from Harrisonburg about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon that the Columbia Company had won first prize there was great rejoicing among the volunteer firemen of this city. The fire bells were rung and everybody seemed to be in high spirits. Reports from the firemen's convention are to the effect that the Alexandrians are having a good time in spite of the bad weather. Hampton was selected as the place for holding the next annual convention of the Volunteer Firemen of the State of Virginia. Hampton received 85 2 3 votes; Staunton 22; and Roanoke 32 1-3 The parade took place yesterday, and fully 1,500 men were in line, and, notwithstanding the rain, fully 8,000 people were assembled on the court square. Columbia, No. 4, of Alexandria, won first prize for the best appearing company in the parade, while Hampton took second money. The reel races occurred today, and eight companies contested for the prizes.

The following officers of the State Firemen Association were elected: W. J. Weymouth, of Hampton, president; J. Park Fraley, of Newport News, senior vice president; George G. Cumming. of Portsmouth, secretary; T. J. Williams, of Richmond, treasurer; J. E. Glenn, Harrisonburg, statistician; Capt. J. H. Redwood, of the Richmond Fire Department, was elected as chairman of the legislative committee.

The secretary's report covering the last 12 months showed a total membership of 1,620, with no withdrawals during the year. Forty-five companies are now members of the association. A committee was appointed to revise the bylaws and also to revise the assessments and dues. The passage by the last general assembly of Virginia of a firemen's relief bill is expected to largely increase the membership of the State association. A concert was given yesterday afternoon by all the bands in attendance, and in the band contest last night first prize was awarded to the Naval Gun Factory Band, of Washington, and second prize to the band of the Eagle Engine Company, of Newport News.

The firemen will return home at 9:15 o'clock tonight. Arrangements are being made by the stay-at-home members to give them a welcome. Mr. J. H. Trimyer, who returned from Harrisonburg last night, reports that the local firemen are enjoying themselves. He reports that they were hospitably entertained. On arriving the three companies will march down King street to Fairfax, down Fairfax to Prince, up Prince to St. Asaph out St. Asaph to King, up King to Patrick and out Patrick to the Reliance house, headed by the Naval Gun Factory Band and the Reliance Drum Corps. It is expected those who are interested in the volunteer firemen will display colored lights on the line of march.

Refreshments will be furnished each company separately at their respective houses and a general jollification is expected on their return tonight.

The Harrisonburg Times says the Alexandria company No. 4 in the parade were dressed in drab colored uniforms and each carried under his arm a souvenir nozzle in the large end of each of which was a bouquet. The effect was very pretty.

Alexandria carried off most of the honors. She won a hundred dollars offered as first prize for the largest and best uniformed company, with band appearing in line; fifty dollars as first prize for the best steamer and fifty dollars as first money for the best band.

LAUNCH LOST DURING STORM.

Messrs. Frank R. Chase and George S. Webb, of the Corinthin Yacht Club, of Washington, lost their handsome yacht at Colonial Beach during the heavy weather of the last few days. The boys left Washington on August 25, reaching Classic Shore, the new subdivision of the beach, the same day. During the night the wind drove the launch against the wharf, completely demolishing and sinking her. The Lina was 35 feet long.

SCHOOLTEACHERS' OUTING.

Six bright-eyed accomplished young ladies, accompanied by Mr. Charles D. Sode, of the water department of Newark, N. J, were in Alexandria today viewing the points of interest. This afternoon they left for Mount Vernon. In the party are Miss Amanda P. Hafner, Miss Hannah Pfrommer, Miss Mary Pfrommer, Miss Lena Pfrommer, Miss Freda Pflomm and Miss Anna Vogel. They seemed to be enjoying their outing very much.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

N. T. Lyles, arrested by Officers Sampson and Bell for disorderly conduct, forfeited $5 collateral.

Linie Stewart, arrested by Officer Henderson for assault on Marie Knight with a knife, was dismissed.

A young man arrested by Officer Nicholson charged with abusive language was dismissed.

TROUBLE ON STEAMER.

The police department is bringing to justice the noisy negroes who go on excursions from this city weekly to Glymont. Linie Stewart, colored, was arrested by Officer Henderson for assaulting and cutting Marie Knight, also colored. The case was one of real disorder but as it happened at Glymont, Md., Justice Caton informed them that he had no jurisdiction.

ELKS' DRAMATIC CLUB.

As is customary with this organization and in order to return favors to those who have assisted them the dramatic club will on September 3 give a complimentary excursion to Marshall Hall on the steamer Charles Macalester. This excursion, though complimentary, will be the most enjoyable one to be given this year. The club has purchased three handsome cups, which are on exhibition in the windows of R. C. Acton & Son on King street to be contested for by the different yachts of this city. In addition to these races the committee have arranged to have a baseball game between the club members and members of Alexandria Lodge. A cake walk between four colored couples will be one of the features, as will also be a watermelon eating contest. The entries for the boat races are as follows:

Speed boats—Handicap—Tryto, owned by J. J. Moore; Kindo, W. E. Moore; and Mac, R. B. Emerson.

Runabout launches—Edna, owned by Hervey Evans; Mary, Al. Hullinger; May, Wallace E. Evans; and yachts owned by E. T. Payne, George Ayres, Thomas Chauncey, Paul Schlichting, Mary, Charles Rambo; George D. Hopkins; Samuel Beach, Eva C., W. C. H Wildt; Joseph Dreyius, Katydid, Thomas A. Fisher; Frank Carlin and Joseph Heintz.

On account of the inclement weather and the fact that a great many purchased tickets for the Elks' excursion of last night who could not attend, the dramatic club has decided to honor those tickets on this occasion.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.

On Saturday Justice J. N. Follin, of Drainesville district, committed Mr. John J. Haskell to jail to await the action of the grand jury, for shooting at, with intent to kill, Dr. A. Sidney Tebbs, of that district. The shooting occurred on Saturday, at the home of Dr. Tebbs, Mr. Haskell (who lives in Washington) having, it is said, gone there for the purpose of shooting him. He made no attempt to evade arrest.

There are sensational rumors afloat as to the cause of the shooting, but in the absence of direct information, in justice to all concerned, we do not care to give them publicity. All the facts, we presume, will be brought out at the trial, which promises to be a notable one. —[Fairfax Herald.

It is understood that Haskell's father, an aged man, and his mother instituted court proceedings against Dr Tebbs several weeks ago, charging mistreating of the children and insults to the mother. The parents tried to keep the matter from the son without avail. On the night Haskell learned the charges against Dr. Tebb, the assault occurred. It is also said that the charges made against Dr. Tebbs by the Haskell family had been discussed by neighbors for several weeks before the son learned of them. It is even stated that Mrs. Haskell wrote to C. Vernon Ford, commonwealth's attorney of Fairfax county, regarding them.

POLITICAL.

In conversation with Mr. Park Agnew today he informed the reporter that he was not a candidate for the republican nomination for Congress from the Eighth district and would not accept it if tendered him by acclamation at the convention to be held in this city on Monday. His attention at present he said was engrossed in business and this was about all he could attend to. The nomination, it is thought, will be offered to ex-Postmaster Crupper, of this city, and in the event of his refusal to accept, it will probably be tendered to Mr. J. A. Eggborn, of Culpeper, father of Mrs. Armistead Eggborn, of this city. As no one seems to be inclined to make the race it would be a compliment to Mr. Frank T. Evans, councilman from the Fourth ward, who was a candidate for the legislature last fall, if the party would honor him. It is an empty honor, to say the least, as the candidate, whoever he may be, is doomed to certain defeat.

CHARTERS.

The Corporation Commission has granted charters to: The Lincoln Land and Improvement Company of Washington, D. C. (Inc.), Alexandria. T. J. Fulmer, president; T. Henry Brown, vice-president; J. G. Dudley, secretary and treasurer—all of Washington, D. C. Capital: maximum, $200,000; minimum, $50,000. Objects: To conduct a general real estate business.

"Kant Pres" Korset Klasp and Korset Company (Inc.), Rosslyn, Alexandria county. Clare H. Cunningham, secretary and treasurer; William F. Small, president; Robert Watson, manager; Joseph R. Edson, general manager—all Washington, D. C.; William M. Rankin, vice-president, Richmond. Capital: maximum, $200,000. Objects: The purchase, exploitation and development of certain inventions and patents, etc.

SUIT.

Mr. Lewis E. Smoot has filed suit in Washington against the Potomac Dredging Company, of Baltimore—Angus Cameron, Enoch Harlan, and William H. P. Jacobs—for $40,000 damages. Mr. Smoot alleges the defendant carried away between the dates of June 4, 1906, and April 4, 1907, 49,680 cubic yards of sand, 74,520 cubic yards of gravel, and 124,200 cubic yards of mixed sand.

HARBOR LINES.

A public hearing will be given at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 11 a. m. September 4th, by Major Spencer Cosby, Corps of Engineers of United States Engineer Office, to all persons interested in the establishment of harbor lines for the port of Alexandria. A map showing proposed harbor lines is on view at the rooms. As the matter is of great importance to the city of Alexandria, and property owners on the harbor, it has been deemed best to invite all interested in the matter to meet at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock tonight, to examine the map and discuss the matter to the end that all may be familiar with the subject when the hearing is given.

BARBER GOT LOST.

Benjamin Hamilton, a well known colored barber, was lost Wednesday while on an excursion to Glymont. Being the pallbearers' excursion it was thought the organization would have another subject for Douglass Cemetery as rumor had it he had jumped overboard. But Ben turned up at his shop this morning and said he had locked himself in a state room when the fighting commenced and went to sleep. The steamer carried him to Washington.

FUNERAL.

The remains of the late Mrs. William H. Carlin, who died in Washington yesterday, will be brought to the home of her son, Congressman C. C. Carlin, in this city, this evening, and the funeral will take place from his residence tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. C. D. Bulla and the pallbearers will be Messrs. S. H. Lunt, J. F. Carlin, S. L. Monroe, Joseph Eskridge and John Eskridge.

THE WEATHER.

After almost a week's rain and clouds the sun made his appearance at intervals today, but the weather appears to be by no means settled. The temperature keeps low and at 7 o'clock this morning the mercury registered 58°. At noon it had gotten up to 71.

BASEBALL TOMORROW.

The Virginia Stars baseball team will line-up against the Cardinals at Colross tomorrow afternoon at 5:30. A good game is expected as both teams are evenly matched. The battery for the Stars will be Smith and Finnell.

AMUSEMENT COMPANIES.

Both the motion pictures houses will have entire change of pictures tonight. At the Alexandria Amusement Company "The Dreams of a Policeman" will be one of the attractions and it is excellent.

At the Opera House "The Alexanders" is the leading attraction, but the entire show is of a high order.

PERSONAL.

Capt. Albert Bryan and family have returned from Markham, where they spent the summer.

Mrs. M. S. Danenhower has returned from Atlantic City.

Mrs. Elizabeth McVeigh is the guest of Mrs. Sallie T. Love, of Fairfax.

Mr. and Mrs Geo. H. Schwarzmann, of Alexandria, registered at The New Bingham Hotel, Philadelphia, yesterday.

Mr. William P. Penn, of Alexandria, and Miss Laura Carnell, of this city, were married here Wednesday afternoon by Rev. R. A. Williams. The bride is formerly of Ashland but has resided here as an employe of the silk mill for the past six years. They will reside in Alexandria to which city they went last night.—[Fredericksburg Journal.

Miss Lizzie Folmar and Miss Mary Hellmuth left today for a vacation trip to Detroit and Toronto, Canada. They will return via Niagara Falls and down the Hudson to New York.

Mr. Joseph L. Barker, formerly of this city but now of Washington, is ill with typhoid fever at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Sophia Parker Talbott, on Queen street.

Captain J. I. Hendley and wife have returned on the yacht Rosalie from a cruise on Chesapeake Bay.

Mr. Robert L. Garrett and Miss Ada H Garrett are stopping at Blue Ridge Inn, Loudoun county.

Miss Helen Moon is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W W. Payne, in Harrisonburg, where she also attended the firemen's convention.

Mrs. J. F. McCuen and son, Melvin, are at Blue Ridge Inn, Demonet.

Mr. and Mrs Charles B. Swan have returned from Piney Point, Md.

Mr. Wm. E. Swan and family have gone to Ocean View, Va., for a couple of weeks.

Mr. Harry B. Smith and Miss Edith F. Barseth, both of this city, were married yesterday evening at the parsonage of St. Mary's Church.

Mrs H. H. Newton and son have returned home after a two months' visit to Charleston, W. Va., and vicinity.

Miss Iva Moriarity and Miss Katie Baggott have returned from a ten days' trip to Purcellville.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Samuel Gant, colored, was arrested on King street today by Chief Goods for disorderly conduct.

The schooner Thomas H. Kirby, loaded with lumber by Henry K. Field & Co., has sailed for Bushwood, Md.

The gasoline barge Richard, loaded with lumber by Henry K. Field & Co., has left for Indian Head, Md.

The Auth Hams are undoubtedly the finest in the city and we are always willing to stand behind that statement. If by any chance you should ever get a ham from us that doesn't come up to our mark just tell us about it and we'll replace it with one that does. This is our iron-clad ham agreement and we'll stick by it, too. Sylvan Bloodheim, the Auth Stand, City Market.

The Elite Moving Picture Company will start the first of next week at Schuler's Hall. Mr. B. B. Smith, the manager, has made extensive improvements and expects during the fall and winter to put on good shows.

The controversy between District of Columbia Commissioners West and Morrow regarding a sub-station site in Washington is still unsettled. Commissioner Macfarland, who is in New York, will cast the deciding vote upon his return. Commissioner West favors a site between Four-and-a-half and seventh streets, while Major Morrow thinks the station should be at Fourteenth and Water streets southwest. Mr. West is supported by the commuters living in Virginia.

ELECTRIC CAR STRIKES CARRIAGE.

One of the trains on the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway struck the carriage in which Mr. Andrew Cheshire was seated this afternoon shortly after three o'clock on King street, between Pitt and Royal, and demolished the vehicle, dragging it considerable distance. Mr. Cheshire was shaken up considerably but the horse was unhurt.

THE FIREMEN.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

The writer's statement has been called to the item in the Gazette of yesterday that Alexandria was one of the contestants for the State Firemen's Convention of 1909, and that Alexandria would probably secure it the next time. The fact is, the delegates from the local companies did not place Alexandria in nomination, though we were practically assured we could get it if we wanted it.

Roanoke, Covington, Staunton and Hampton were placed in nomination and the last named place was selected.

Cherry History.

It is still asserted in schoolbooks that cherries were introduced to England by the "fruiterer" or greengrocer of Henry VIII.; also, that they were not common for a hundred years after that time. This is an error. Mr. Thomas Wright found the name in every one of the Anglo-Saxon vocabularies which he edited. So common were they and so highly esteemed that the time for gathering them became a recognized festival—"cherry fair" or "feast." And this grew into a proverbial expression for fleeting joys. Gower says the friars taught that "life is but a cherye fayre," and Hope "endureth but a throwe, right as it were a cherye feste." There is more than one record of the purchase of trees for the king's garden at Westminster centuries before Henry VIII. was born. But Pliny contradicted the fable, as if in prophetic mood. After telling that Lucullus first brought cherries to Rome (from Pontus, in 680 A. U. C.), he adds that in the course of 120 years they have spread widely, "even passing over sea to Britain."—Cornhill Magazine.

The First English Bookmaker.

Both the Derby and the Oaks owe their names to that Earl of Derby who kept a pack of staghounds near Epsom during the last quarter of the eighteenth century and resided at a hunting box called the Oaks. Fifty years later a spiteful description of the Oaks and its jockeys was recorded in the diary of Charles Greville. In the report of the first Derby run the names of five starters and of all the riders are missing and there is no betting quotation.

As the earliest known bookmaker, Vauxhall Clarke, was hanged, not for welshing, but for highway robbery, betting on the race course could not at that period have been a particularly profitable profession. Jockeys did not then possess their present princely salaries, but with a fee of a guinea were more richly rewarded than those of King James I., who were regaled by our British Solomon with long speeches, delivered half in Latin and half in Caledonian.—Westminster Gazette.

Financial Poetry.

An unusual album was presented to Willis Clark, brother of Lewis Gaylord Clark, a poet, on one occasion, with a request for "some rhymes."

Mr. Clark was at the house of a farmer, and the man's daughter had turned an old account book into an autograph album in which were inscribed the names of her various friends and relatives below appropriate sentiments.

Mr. Clark saw his opportunity, and after turning over the leaves for a moment or two he took a pen and wrote the following verse:

This world's a scene as dark as Styx
Where hope is scarce worth	2	6
Our joys are born so fleeting hence
That they are dear at			12
And yet to stay here many are willing
Although they may not have			1

Pepys on May Dew.

In Pepys' time May dew—that is, dew gathered from the grass on a May morning, and especially on the morning of May day—was highly prized for bleaching linen and improving the complexion. Pepys wrote in 1667: "My wife away down with Jane and W Hewer to Woolwich in order to a little air on to lie there tonight and so to gather May dew tomorrow morning, which Mrs. Turner bath taught her is the only thing in the world to wash her face with, and I am contented with it." Two years later he made this entry in his diary: "Troubled, about 3 in the morning, with my wife's calling her maid up and, rising herself, to go with her coach abroad to gather May dew, which she did, and I troubled for it for fear of any hurt going abroad so betimes happening to her, but I to sleep again. She came home about 6."

Very Sagacious.

A farmer had a very sagacious dog which he had trained to count his sheep as they passed through a particular opened gate, against which a pile of stones were placed for the dog's use. As each sheep passed through the dog placed one of the stones aside. One day, much to the farmer's surprise, he found the dog trying to break a stone in half, and on himself counting the flock he found there had been an addition in the night of a lamb.

Know the Value.

"Do you know the value of an oath?" asked the judge of an old darky who was to be the next witness. "Yes, sah. I does. One ob dese yeah lawyers done gib me foah dollars for to swear to suffin. Dat's de value of an oath. Foah dollars, sah." And then there was consternation in the courtroom.—St. Joseph News.

Tit For Tat.

"We thought we'd rather move than clean house."

"An original iden."

"Not so original. It had also occurred to the people who vacated the abode we leased."—Kansas City Journal.

RAISING THE LIMIT.

City Officials Are Trying to Get More Money to Lavish at the Expense of the Taxpayers.

In several parts of the country movements are on foot to increase the debt limits of cities in order that they may go more deeply into municipal ownership. In the good old days, when in certain sections of the west there was no limit in poker games or to the debt of cities, there was at least one city from which all the inhabitants fled in despair, preferring to abandon their property rather than to pay the taxes. Even in the older sections of the country there have been cities which have been forced into bankruptcy by like causes and whose property holders have sustained losses which beggared many of them.

Where conservatism is not adhered to in such matters serious results almost inevitably follow, because a majority of the voters who are not directly taxed fail to realize that they may be indirect losers if the taxes become excessive and the business interests of the city are thereby hampered and curtailed. It is far easier for cities to spend money than to pay off bonds, and even conservative citizens are apt not to count the cost when it comes to city expenditures. The present laws in regard to debt limits are safeguards suggested by sad experience to protect cities against sudden attacks of spendthriftiness.

An Indestructible Mouse.

It was a very indignant woman who sent for a gas inspector and informed him that she had solved the mystery of her big gas bills. Triumphantly she conducted the inspector to the basement and instructed him to follow her example as she placed one ear close to the meter. It squeaked. "There!" she remarked. "Do you hear that? Well, I've wondered and wondered what made my last gas bill so high, and then I decided to investigate for myself. There's a mouse inside that meter. He can't get out, and he just runs and runs and spins that contraption round and round, and I have to pay for it. Listen! Hear him squeak!" In vain did the poor gas meter man try to explain. She poohpoohed the idea of a mouse not being able to live in a gas meter. Hadn't she tried to kill mice off, and didn't she know that they had cats beaten to a standstill for vitality? She got a new gas meter, paid the same bills, but was satisfied and told all her neighbors how she made the gas company come to time.—Progressive Age.

Not Sauce For the Gander.

The water department of Salt Lake City, Utah, has been running behind for some time. As a result the rates have been raised from 25 to nearly 200 per cent for various classes of consumers. Of course it's good business, but if a corporation did anything like that the yellow press would have a spasm and invent several new epithets to apply to it.

Costly Economy.

Linneus, Mo., has had a little experience with false economy. When the municipal lighting plant burned down recently it was found that the insurance covered only about 40 per cent of the loss. Bonds will have to be issued to rebuild.
